Surnova
Surnova is a village and municipality in Nové Zámky District in the Nitra Region of south-west Slovakia. Geography The village lies at an altitude of 111 metres and covers an area of 6.459 km<sup>2</sup>. History In historical records the village was first mentioned in 1218. After the Austro-Hungarian army disintegrated in November 1918, Czechoslovak troops occupied the area, later acknowledged internationally by the Treaty of Trianon. Between 1938 and 1945 Surnova once more became part of Miklós Horthy's Hungary through the First Vienna Award. From 1945 until the Velvet Divorce, it was part of Czechoslovakia. Since then it has been part of Slovakia. Population It has a population of about 1240
