Audaces Vestuario 11 Full Version

Hi, I am starting with python recently. What I'd like to do is to record a simple a script which capture the mouse keypress and write it to a text file (say, recording.txt). So far, what I have is: from Tkinter import * import sys master = Tk() master.title = "My Test" def startRecord(event): mouseClicked = event.widget.tk.call('mouse') rec = open("recording.txt", "a") rec.write(mouseClick) rec.close() master.bind_all("", startRecord) master.mainloop() I get the error message: Traceback (most recent call last): File "C:\Documents and Settings\Davide\Desktop\test.py", line 10, in master.bind_all("", startRecord) File

    "C:\Python26\lib\lib-tk\Tkinter.py", line 1249, in bind_all cnf=cnf) File
    "C:\Python26\lib\lib-tk\Tkinter.py", line
1653, in _setitm self.tk.call(methodname, *args) TclError: can't invoke "mouse" command: application has been cancelled Any idea on how to do it? Thanks A: Tkinter doesn't let you interact with the mouse while a GUI program is running.
Use instead the root.focus_set() method to give the main window the keyboard focus and then run your code on the very next Toplevel event (root.after() is probably the best way to go about that).
As for your Tcl error: you probably have the same problem as in this question, which has been asked and answered many times before on StackOverflow.

This study compared the linearity of two studies using the VADE as a mnemonic for digit span (DS) to examine the acquisition of DS tasks in an auditory and visual modality. In Experiment 1, subjects acquired a memory list using the VADE and a pseudo-random sequence that was either auditory or visual. In Experiment 2, a significant effect of trial on retention performance and a significant group x trial interaction on DS acquisition in the visual task indicated that the VADE is not a linear mnemonic. In Experiment 3, subjects were exposed to both the VADE and a word length and complexity (WLC) task. The WLC task produced a short-term forgetting effect as a function of exposure time, and the interaction effect of group x trial was significant as well. In Experiment 4, results indicated that the WLC task can serve as a reasonable analogue of the VADE, but the subject's success was due to an effect of the exposure time. All of these results have implications for models of memory and for the development of training procedures.

Q: How to compute the probability of rolling a three with 16 available units and at least one number is greater than 12? I'm trying to solve this problem. Let  $\Omega$  be the set of all outcomes of three dice, where a dice outcome of 1,2,3,4,5,6 is equivalent to throwing a 3 with 16 units and at least one number is greater than 12. Find the probability of rolling a three with 16 available units and at least one number is greater than \$12\$. My attempt:

sheet: every record that has just the same "code" than the previous record from Column c. Is there a way to do it? A: For the 1st task you don't need to use if statements (You can use ARRAYFORMULA instead):

=ARRAYFORMULA(IF((A:A="", "", "if column c=c+1 copy 'code' from column A to a new sheet"&C:C)) The 2nd task is a bit tricky, have you tried the UNIQUE function:

=ARRAYFORMULA(IF(UNIQUE(C1:C))
