JQ_Levius_01_FR_RabatLong.indd 1Q: Cannot validate/parse
"type: number" in Yii2 I am trying to validate a form with Yii2. I'm trying to do an Integer field for the column "type".
But when I submit my form, I get the following error: Type Error. Cannot validate the given Yii2 form. Validation failed.

The values must exist and be unique. I know this is a common error, but I've looked at other examples and I can't see what I'm doing wrong. Here's the code I'm trying to validate: ['type' => 'integer', 'invalid_message' =>
'Please enter a number.', 'label' => 'Type', 'validationUrl' => ['/site/attributes/typeValidation', 'id' => $model->id],
'required' => true,] and here's the model: ['type' => function ($attribute, $model) { return $model->type == 1; },] Am I missing something obvious? A: You can't validate the type attribute directly. It's more like a unique index or a foreign key in a database. Read this to better understand:
To validate the type attribute, you have to write a custom validator like the following: ['type' =>
'yii\validators\UniqueValidator', 'invalidMessage' => 'You have to choose something.', 'attributes' => ['type' => [
'value' => ['exists' => true,
